

QUEENS' SCHOOL Dare to Read

We have had a busy few weeks with the excitement of World Book Day on 2nd March being a tremendously fun day. Both the English department and the Library dressed up which adds excitement to the day for all those students who see us! This year we held a book giveaway at lunchtime and over 200 books were handed out to students who came, as well as those that attended Ms Jacob's Mad Hatters Tea party. Further books have also been handed out in Library lessons so in total about 300 books have been handed to students.

Our main display has been about Women's History Month and then for a bit of fun we had more colouring for St Patricks Day. There is always lots to see and do in the Library as well as look at our stock and take a book out!

With the summer exams not that far away, finding time and space to revise is important. Not everyone finds it easy to study at home, so we have created a list of local libraries that students can get to easily. As the weather starts to improve and we get sunnier and warmer days, don't forget a local park is also a nice place to study in. We would like to take this opportunity to wish all those taking exams the best of luck. We wish you all the best for the future.

Places to Study

As your exams are getting closer, it is important to find the time to revise and study. It may be distracting, at times, to study at home so below are some suggested places. Perhaps meet a friend or two and go together to motivate one another.

- Watford Central Library

This library is close to The Parade area of shops. The library is open 7 days a week. Please check the link below to see the opening hours for a specific day.
