MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

NEWS

It has been a very busy term for the Maths department! Students have worked hard during this first term and we are both pleased and proud with their achievements. Our Year 11's have just taken their mock exams and we have been busy marking them ready to give them their results in January. Thank you for your ongoing support with SPARX Maths, our home learning platform. Most students are completing homework every week to a high standard which is great to see. If there are still any issues logging in then please see details of where to seek help below.

We would like to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Thank you, Queens' Maths Department
